

Youth Job Center

Getting a job. Launching a future.

Planned Giving

Why planned giving?

Across the nation, an estimated 4.5 million young people ages 16 to 24 are disconnected from work and school. The youth unemployment rate in Chicago was the highest among all age groups during the past ten years. Unemployment among young adults, particularly those in under-resourced communities, continues to be a pressing societal issue.

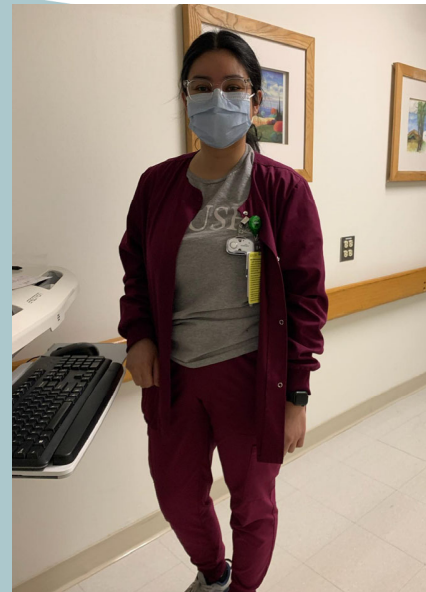

Through planned giving you can help young people for generations to come achieve the future of their dreams. Your gift makes a difference in confronting the challenge of the large number of young people disconnected from work and school. It's time for us to make our community a place where everyone has opportunity to find success, regardless of the obstacles they face.

By leaving a bequest to Youth Job Center in your will, you will be able to make a more substantial gift than may be possible right now. You can also ensure that you will leave a legacy without giving up assets while you need them.

With a planned gift, you can:

- Make a larger gift than you thought possible
- Put the financial needs of your family first
- Receive valuable tax benefits
- Leave a legacy without giving up assets

Daisy enrolled in YJC's WIOA Career Pathways Program and worked to begin her career in the healthcare industry. Daisy attended Tukiendorf Training Institute's Patient Care Technician Program. During the 6 month training program, Daisy gained the skills needed to transition into the medical field and earned multiple certifications (CNA, Phlebotomy, EKG, and CPR). Daisy successfully passed and received her American Medical Certification Association license as a Patient Care Technician!

Should you decide to move forward with a planned gift, please fill out the YJC Bequest Intention form and share it with us and your estate planner. By remembering us in your will, you can help ensure brighter futures for the next generation of youth.
